

VMWare Issue

Posted by Eve_Pilot_208 - 2019/03/13 05:05

So all the sudden the last several days my VMWare instances are running Eve extremely slow. They start out fine but seem to begin to get worse withing minutes of starting the client and getting windows set up to the point when it undocks it cannot seem to engage modules.

What version of VMWare do you use? I use workstation v.14.1.3 but when making image i use the Workstation 6.5-7.x for compability.

Amount of RAM?
How many vms?

There are usually no problem, it's a configuration matter. Retrace your steps - any sudden upgrades to your local machine?

I moved back to VMWare 7 and it seems to be working correctly now. Whats weird is I had it on 11 for months and everything was fine. It just seemed like all the sudden it started crapping out.

Open eve launcher settings and tick use directx9 mode. VMWare 7 has no directx 11 support so eve is forced to start with directx9
