

Pre purchase questions

Posted by TheBeast - 2018/06/18 00:00

Hi , I am planning on buying a license for either the trader or the courier bot. The trader bot license costs 15USD a month , an omega sub another 15(euro for EU). I can buy ~6B isk (current rate) per month for that money. My question is , will the trader or the courier bot make more / month than this. I am willing to invest around 1B isk as starting fund.

The trader bot will make more once you have it up and running properly. I just pay for the bot and plex numerous accounts and still have isk left for pvp.

One more quick question. Whats the difference between the AutoTrader and the regular Trader?

Autotrader finds items to buy and resell. It has the same settings for everybody and minimal customization. Regular trader use your item list to trade. You can customize more settings: how much ISKs to use per each item, minimal profit to continue to update orders, minimal volume to outbid etc. Autotrader does not work with trial evepilot version.

Will buy a courier license to make a trader char. Then autotrader to start trading. Thanks for the answers

I have a few questions about the Courier bot, First can it be done with only an alpha if my goal is just to get +9 for trading?
Second is there a guide that directly tells me which missions to do before I can just let it go by itself. Basically a setup guide. Thanks!

Yes, but alfas may run 1-3 agents only after eve update. I would recommend to reach max 8 standing then switch to trader.

Copy settings from all pictures from the manual. They are optimized for Jita trader. You will need to place ore (Veldspar, Scordite, Omber, Kernite) to home station and switch agent levels when necessary.
